

Practical Application of Green Procurement - Materials Declaration -

Guidelines for the Standardization of Green Procurement Survey of Parts for Electric and Electronic Equipment

Written and Edited by: Japan Green Procurement Survey Standardization Institute

Understandable at a Glance!

This publication provides a complete standardization of chemical substances targeted for survey that are contained in electric and electronic equipment and products using ample materials and examples as explanation. This is the first and groundbreaking manual that compiles the Japanese policy on "standardization of green procurement and achieving green manufacturing". The publication also provides operating manuals on filling out forms and methods of operation. It is ideal as a training textbook for use within a company. The survey response tool may be downloaded without charge from the home page of the Japan Electronics and Information Technical Association (JEITA; <http://home.jeita.or.jp/eps/>).
