Responsible Minerals Trade Working Group

The Japan Electronics and Information Technology Industries Association (JEITA) presents JEITA Chairman's Award annually to honor projects (by individuals or organizations) that have made a significant contribution to enhancing public welfare, either by promoting the advancement of electronics and information technology industries, developing a new technology, opening up new markets, strengthening international competitiveness, or improving consumer and environmental protection.

At the Sixth JEITA Chairman's Award Ceremony held on May 30, 2014, the Responsible Minerals Trade Working Group received the JEITA Chairman's Award in recognition of its efforts and achievements.

Reason for the Award

For promoting CSR throughout the global supply chain related to conflict minerals

The Responsible Minerals Trade Working Group has contributed to the industry as a whole by promoting smooth implementation of the CFSI conflict-free smelter program, an industry-led international audit program for smelters and refiners, while alleviating the economic impact of conflict minerals disclosure compliance.
