

「Cable Distribution Equipments for Home Use (3.2GHz)」

【scope】

This temporary standard specifies the desirable performance of the equipment which is generally used in a home television receiving systems with approximately 10 terminals and using frequency up to 3224MHz in the equipments receiving the television broadcast including the satellite broadcast.